“Because every hard floor needs a beautiful area rug!”
Method No. 1 - Instabind
This is the fastest, least expensive way to get started. This method requires the lowest initial investment in tools, yet it offers several different styles: Binding, serging, or the nautical rope look. Installation of Instabind tapes can be done right on the job site saving a trip to the binder!

Method No. 2 - Portabind / Portaserge
This method requires a moderate investment in equipment (a portable binding or serging machine) but a lower ongoing cost of material. It offers a wider range of colors for accurate matching, and 3 basic looks (binding, serging and wide binding).

Method No. 3 - Stationary or Factory Binding
This method is used for high-volume production type work. It requires a more substantial capital investment for heavy duty machines, rollers or air tables that are not normally taken to the job site, but remain at the binding shop.

The following pages will explain, in greater detail, precisely what tools, equipment and supplies are needed for each binding method. There will be many options or check points to consider, depending upon the size and scope of your carpet binding needs and your method of doing business. You, the customer, are in the best position to decide what method fits your operation and your budget.
